GPW Assessments

"I was really reluctant at first to use PPA's but now use them when recruiting for all positions"

We offer a wide range of assessment services from skills testing to psychometric tests.

Our assessments are used to:

- Recruit the right person
- Improve communication
- Motivate and engage staff
- Identify areas for development
- Manage performance

GPW Recruitment's trained psychometric test practitioners can help detail a person's strengths and limitations, communication style, value to the business, motivations, basic fears and how they behave under pressure. Spend time managing your under-performers and focus more time on those who will truly drive your business forward.
